By Caleb Gattegno : The Science of Education Part 2B: The Awareness of Mathematization The Science of Education Part 2B: The Awareness of Mathematization:

Until now it was left to chance to produce the number of mathematicians the world needed Now we can work deliberately and diligently at increasing their numbers Each individual will be able to decide whether becoming a professional mathematician suits him or her or whether after tasting this intellectual nourishment they prefer other involvements to become more permanent Such a choice was never mentioned in the past because the gift for doing

math was consi
